THANKS FOR GOOD WISHES.

Such kind expressions as are contained in the following have proved an invigorating elixir and will do much towards extending the lease of life which brother Brown, of the Citizen, so kindly wishes prolonged "for many years:

Judge Hackney, the veteran editor and proprietor of the Smyra Brix, celebrated his 70th year on the 31st ult. The good people of Globe, of which place Judge Hackney is an honored citizen, gave our old friend a surprise in the shape of an expression of good wishes and a contribution of many good things. The Citizen takes pleasure in adding its good will to theirs with the hope that, venerable us the Judge is, his life of usefulness may yet be prolonged for many years. In this sentiment we will, we feel assured, be joined by his host of friends the length and breadth of Arizona.

INDIANS NEAR LAKE VALLEY.

Last Thursday, Mr. Sharp and family, who were conducting the boarding cars at Watson station, were surprised on observing four hostile Indians riding up the railroad track. The family immediately boarded one of the hand-cars and pulled out for Nutt station. The Indians took possession of the boarding-cars, but, to the utter astonishment of all, did no damage. It appears that the Indians were in quest of water, and after satisfying unless something is done quickly this their thirst, took across the plains in a part of the territory will be in a bad south-westerly direction. THE NEW SURVEYOR GENERAL.

In the appointment of John Hise as Surveyor General of Arizona, the President has for once adhered to his "resident plank." Mr. Hise is an ur- dians fired into the house at every bane and dignified gentleman, a merchant of Globe and one of the solid The Indians then set fire to John citizens of Gila County- He is a man Yeater's house, one of the members of of fine capabilities and will be a credit is the office and to Arizona.-Tueson

The foregoing is regarded, in Globe, as a joke. If intended as a compliment to the appointee it argues that the editor of the Citizen is not acquainted with the "urbane and dignied gentleman" of whom it speaks. We have heard but one man express himself satisfied with the appointment.

Early on Sunday morning last Robert Hull, of the Diamond Creek Cattle Co., arrived in Chloride stating that on Wednesday or Thursday, last week, ten head of horses belonging to Joe Meeson, and Nellie, Mr. Meeson's valuable mare among the rest, had been run off by Indians. The loss of the horses was not known until a day or so after the steal, when the boys found the trail and followed it some distance. From indications presented by the trail and a previous camp showed that they were ten or twelve Indians in the outfit and were making toward the Animas park. This is the second band of horses belonging to the Diamond Creek Company that have been stolen in about two months time.-Black Range.

The season is now at hand for Thanksgiving proclamation, and stuffed turkeys. The President unbends his political mind and indulges in pious reflections and is verbose in his rhetorical thankfulness, especially for peace, and names November 26, as a day of public thanksgiving and prayer. If the President had not enjoined thankfulness for the blessing of peace, Arizona and New Mexico might have chipped in on the joyful occasion and done their level best in prayer and songs of praise, but to be joyful for peace where it does not exist, is asking citizens of the two territories to be hypocritical, which would not be pleasing in the sight of the Lord. and, therefore, we will simply take turkey in ours.
